

PERGOLINO
Sturdy sun and weather protection

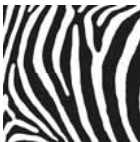

The PERGOLINO P3000 is the ideal sun and weather protection for private homes and restaurants.

A support profile underneath the guide rails provides the system with a high degree of stability. The PERGOLINO is thus able to withstand wind and weather. The support profile is securely positioned in a ground sleeve or in an optional flower trough. The robust system is assembled easily and quickly. Integrated gas-filled cylinders ensure the fabric remains taut in any position. The PERGOLINO P3000 provides reliable protection when combined with an optional, specially impregnated fabric available from the STOBAG range at an angle of 6°, even in bad weather.

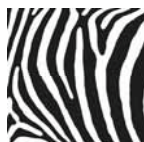

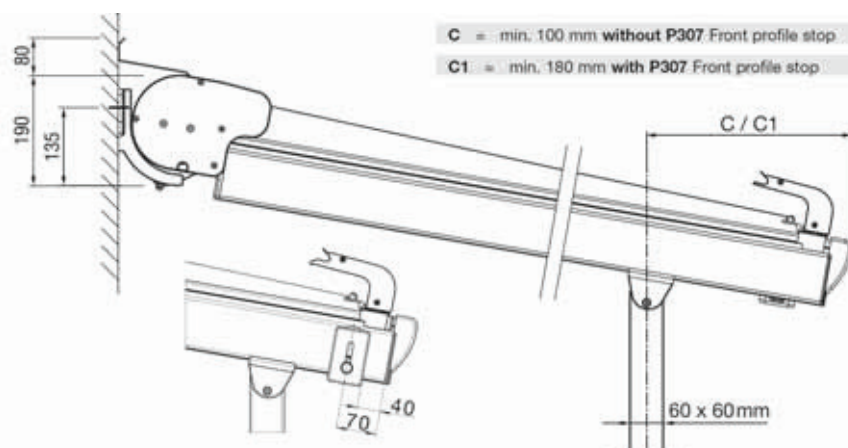

Effortless handling thanks to the strong electric motor and high convenience if fitted with control units. Additional controls such as sun, wind or rain sensors, available as options, complement the standard electric drive with convenient automatic functions.

Enjoy your time in the open air. The reliable PERGOLINO shading system ensures hours of relaxation – at home, in the club house or on the restaurant terrace.
